

The true meaning of Christmas

Blessed is the season that engages the world with a gift of love.

Christmas Gifts For You!

Celebrations around the world! Happy holidays! Festivities!

It is a time for giving, a time for gifts!

I care for you so dearly that I come with special gifts straight from My heart to yours.

You won't find these gifts in any shop or mall. They cannot be sold or bought for a price and yet they are priceless and rare.

Those who possess them are most richly blessed.

My love is My Christmas gift for you.

Love is the essence of Christmas

Love, this is My special gift for you.

Love that is patient in a world of intolerance.

Love that cares.

Love that is vibrant and warm .

Love that comforts you in sorrow,
that consoles you when you're lonely.

Love that gives. Love that shares. Love that cares.

Love that does not judge you by the color of your skin, the way you look, or how you speak.

Love that is full of happiness and laughter.

Love that is understanding when others fail to see into your heart.

Love that is unconditional and forever.

Love that is kind and tender when all else around you seems cold and hard.

Love that gives you a helping hand and lightens the load.

My love is always there for you – any place, any time, day or night.
My love will go to any length to help you. It knows no stopping place, no limit.

Rest for the weary

Love brings peace of mind when you are confused, rest when you are weary, and strength when you feel you cannot go on.

My love will calm your fears and give you courage in the face of despair.

My love can heal when your body is broken; it can soothe your heartaches and pain. My love will ease your mind when it is troubled and weary; it will melt away tension, worry and strain.

I can't promise you will never have heartaches, disappointments or worries as you walk down the road of life. But I can promise that I'll give you encouragement, instruction, guidance, wisdom, and the strength you need to come through. I promise to never leave your side.

Together we'll survive any difficulty, overcome any weakness, hurdle any obstacle.

You may ask, "In these modern times so grim and bleak, who could possibly care so much for me? In these days when so many people's love has grown cold, who can I really trust?"

Where do I look? Who do I believe? This sounds so good. How could anyone have so great a love, and gifts, no less, and all for free?"

Come talk to Me, anywhere, anytime, anyplace, any way you prefer. Talk to Me out loud, or whisper softly if you like. Speak to Me in words, or just send Me your thoughts, signalling Me from your heart in the rush of the day or the stillness of the night.

Any way you feel comfortable is fine with Me. You can tell Me anything you want, and I will understand. I'm here for you, with a listening ear, sympathy and understanding.

*I know, I love, and I care for you,
as if you were the only one in the world.*

That's the reason I came to earth on Christmas day – to give My great love to you.

– Jesus
